Don't Guess----Find Out.

FINE FIREPLACE FIXTURES.

You may not think brass beds were made for any but the wealthy; but this store has a way of getting these home adornments so that no one need feel sorry that the silver spoon passed them by at birthday.

No Better Beds at Any Price.

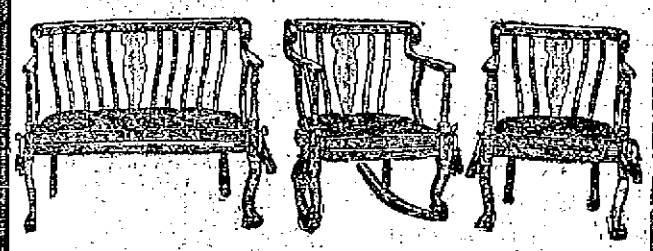

And the price is so small, too. A perfect little beauty is on our floors today fresh from the factory that sends a steady stream of them to Titus of Lynn, Titus of Salem and Titus of Newport. It has a full 2-inch post with heavy vases and fillers, is of unusually pretty design, and as aristocratic looking as any of the fifty dollar ones. $13.50

MRS. STEVENS LETS HER GAVEL FALL.

Thanks Taft for a Nation Thrice Grateful.

National W. C. T. U. in Annual Convention in Omaha.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 22.—The thirty-sixth annual convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union was called to order at 9:30 this morning, the preceding hour having been devoted to a service of prayer and praise. Besides the voting delegates, officers, department superintendents, organizers and other official workers, there were present in the auditorium at the opening many hundreds of visiting members from all parts of the United States. The convention hall had been re-seated with opera chairs for this convention, at the request of Mrs. Stevens, the president, and an elaborate plan of decoration had been carried out.

The convention came to order at the tap of President Stevens's gavel promptly at 9:30. Singing led by Mrs. Frances W. Graham of New York was followed by devotional exercises. After the roll-call the annual report of the executive committee was presented.

Mrs. Stevens featured her report with a note of congratulation to President Taft for his stand on the temperance question. In reviewing the action of corporations and organizations in different parts of the country which have placed a ban on the employment of persons addicted to the liquor habit, Mrs. Stevens says:

"There have been many similar determinations during the year by organizations and prominent individuals, the latest and most notable being that of Mr. Taft, who, soon after his election as President of the United States, at a banquet turned his wine glass down and said it would ever remain so, and in harmony with this action, and through his request, no liquors were served at the inaugural ball at Washington. For Mr. Taft to set the example of total abstinence is cause for great rejoicing by those who care for humanity's weal. Mr. Taft is entitled to grateful thanks and appreciation of a thrice grateful nation."

In a review of victories won by the temperance cause the work in Tennessee, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina, Indiana, Ohio and Nebraska was particularly mentioned.

A general review on total abstinence says:

"There is in the public mind a clearer understanding concerning the relation of total abstinence to prohibition. All well-meaning, intelligent people know that liquor drinking is demolishing—that it is destructive to health and happiness, to commercial and industrial efficiency."

Mrs. Stevens referred to statements made by heads of 39 of the leading railroad systems of the country in response to letters sent them by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, asking for their policy with regard to drinking men. All replies received stated that there was an absolutely prohibitive rule against liquor. "It is conservatively estimated, therefore," the report says "that 90 per cent of the trades and 79 per cent of the agriculturists discriminate against workmen who drink."

Mrs. Stevens deplores the fact that many daily papers accept extensive advertising contracts from liquor dealers, and in her report gave a list of 42 periodicals which decline to accept this class of advertisements. She says that one periodical refused $200,000 of liquor advertising in one year.

Speaker Cannon was charged with having prevented the passage of a bill designed to stop the shipping of liquor into dry states.

The report strongly favored a federal commission of inquiry on the alcoholic liquor traffic, but admitted that it is not so generally needed now as it was 20 years ago.

The address of Mrs. Stevens occupied the greater part of the morning session.

The program of the afternoon session included the submission of the annual reports of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frances H. Parks, of Illinois, and of the treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth P. Hutchinson, of Illinois, and addresses by Miss Rhina E. G. Mosher of New York, secretary of the young women's branch, and Miss Margaret Wintringer of Illinois, secretary of the Loyal Temperance Legion branch.

The superintendents of the medical, temperance, Sunday School, press, school savings banks, and temperance and labor departments, were also on the program for addresses.

SLIGHTEST RAY OF HOPE.

McCarren Very Low, and Fight Believed to Be Nearing Its End.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—State Senator Patrick H. McCarren's fight for life is believed to be nearing its end. This morning his pulse rose to 130, and it was announced at the Brooklyn hospital, where he was operated on for appendicitis a week ago, that death was expected. Dr. O'Keefe, the house surgeon, said that the patients probably had only a few hours to live. Hypodermic injections were given to stimulate his rapidly failing heart motion, but with little success. The condition of Senator McCarren was aggravated by his failure to retain nourishment and his inability to sleep.

The hopes of the friends of the Democratic leader of Brooklyn, which had been alternately raised and depressed by reports of his improvement and then of relapses, were at a minimum when it was stated at the hospital that the patient was very weak, and that an unfavorable turn had developed during the night. The senator was never a man of great vigor, and the drain of the past week on his vitality and endurance had left him without reserve power with which to fight a protracted siege of severe illness.

The Brooklyn leader fully realized his condition. A priest was kept close at hand, ready to offer the final consolations of the church to the dying man.

At noon Dr. Hughes said: "Senator McCarren is in a frightful condition. There is the slightest ray of hope. When I say that, I mean we will not give up until the end. The patient is still conscious, and is now trying to sleep. We are unable to sustain the heart action."

FALL RIVER MEN STILL AT THE HEAD

Golden Tansey and Hibber Re-Elected to Office.

Textile Emergency Committee to Facilitate Strikes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The United States Textile Association of America today re-elected John Golden president, James Tansey first vice president, and Albert Hibbert, secretary-treasurer, all of Fall River, Mass., and elected Thomas Morgan of Paterson, N. J., second vice president.

To facilitate the ordering of strikes in the cotton, silk and kindred industries, the association today authorized the appointment of an emergency committee of five members, with all authority in dealing with labor disputes, which in the past has been conferred only on its more cumbersome executive council of 17 members. This action was taken after an animated debate, during which President Golden told the delegates of the embarrassmen which had been experienced in the past, when he and his fellow-officers had been unable to order men out of a mill until after long delay, because it was necessary to call together the executive council from various parts of the country. He declared that mill owners had on occasions reduced wages, putting the lower scale into effect within a few days, and then "laughed up their sleeves" at the officers of the United Textile Workers because they knew their hands were tied by their constitution, which made necessary action by their executive council, scattered all over the country. If they were to retaliate by ordering a strike.

The emergency committee authorized today with power to order a strike can act only unanimously. In case they are divided in opinion as to the advisability of ordering men out of a shop, the executive council must be called upon to decide what course should be taken.

Commenting on the difficulties encountered by the officers of the association in their work, President Golden declared that as soon as a manufacturer in any of the textile industries sets up business and becomes the owner of half a dozen looms, he at once is possessed with a conviction that he must have an automobile and that he should live like a millionaire. Then, in order to realize that ambition, he said, the manufacturer begins to put into effect arbitrary rules to increase his income from his employes.

During the debate over the plan for extending the membership and influence of the United Textile Association, Thomas Morgan of Paterson, N. J., expressed his belief that trade unionism in the textile industry in his home city had been built up from a memberships of 68 to 875 in the last year, and every one of the 61 mills doing business there will be organized within the next 18 months.

LONG-DISTANCE EXPERIMENTS.

Navy to Use Chester and Birmingham, and Brant Rock, Mass.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The navy is soon to conduct experiments in long-distance wireless telegraphy. Impressed with the importance of a system which can transmit messages from some place on the Atlantic seaboard for a distance of 3,000 miles, the matter was taken up in earnest almost a year ago. By its means the Navy Department in time of war will be able to control and direct readily from shore the movements of the fleet. This, together with the proposition to install wireless apparatus on ships so that they may be able to communicate with each other at a distance of 1,000 miles, will put the government in a position where directions given to one vessel may be quickly transmitted to another.

The experiments in communicating 3,000 miles are to take place at Brant Rock, Mass., beginning probably late in December. Instruments constructed for this purpose have been installed in a tower over 400 feet high. Two scout cruisers, the Salem and the Birmingham, are to be utilized as receiving stations. Repairs to these vessels now under way will be completed December 4, soon after which they will leave the United States for a trip which will keep them within a radius of 3,000 miles from Brant Rock, the present program contemplating a cruise from the Scottish coast down to the West African coast, and also in the American tropics. Meanwhile messages will be sent to each of these vessels, both of which have been equipped with ten-kilowat-power receiving apparatus, capable, it is asserted, of recording the long-distance communications. At the same time the vessels will exchange messages, for the purpose of testing the apparatus for communicating 1,000 miles at sea.

Strict requirements were laid down by the Navy Department in the specifications inviting proposals for constructing the proposed high-powered station, as well as for the apparatus on board the ships.

On the result of these experiments will rest the question of the erection by the navy of a wireless tower at Washington, D. C., as contemplated originally, that in Massachusetts belonging to a private company.

SPECTATORS TERRIFIED.

Latham Flies a Hundred Miles an Hour in a Thirty-Mile Gale.

BLACKPOOL, England, Oct. 22.—Hubert Latham, the French aviator, gave an exhibition today which first entertained and then terrified the spectators. In a monoplane Latham battled against a 30-mile-an-hour gale, twice circling the course. As the machine struggled in the teeth of the gale it appeared at times to stand still in the air. When, however, Latham came about in the wind the monoplane was driven at a rate estimated to be between 80 and 100 miles an hour. At one time he barely escaped being carried out to sea, and the crowd, which had been worked up to a high pitch of excitement, ceased to cheer and besought the aviator to come down. When Latham did alight he was not permitted to attempt a further flight while the wind continued high.

TAFT AGAIN ON BUSINESS BENT.

Addresses Waterways Men at Corpus Christi.

Visits Town of Taft and Speaks in Schoolhouse.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Oct. 22.—After three days of golf, rest and practical seclusion at his brother's ranch at La Quinta, President Taft came here today and made an address to the convention of the Interstate Inland Waterways League, which began its session here yesterday. Governor Campbell and other officials and a number of Congressmen were among the delegates to greet the President.

Mr. Taft made the trip from La Quinta to Corpus Christi, a distance of ten miles, on revenue cutter Wingdom, leaving his brother's place shortly before 9 o'clock. Secretary of War Dickinson accompanied him.

Starting from La Quinta yesterday afternoon, the President traveled in an automobile to Taft, 11 miles away, to visit the town which gave him its unanimous vote in the election last fall, and in the schoolhouse there he made a little speech of thanks and congratulation to his brother's farmhands.

On the highway to Taft the President stopped at the cotton gin and watched its operation with much interest. There he saw for the first time a steam plow at work in the fields. Next the President was taken to the creamery, where he ate a dish of ice cream, and just before going to the schoolhouse he had a look at the abbatoir, which was not in use, however.

During the morning yesterday the President played 18 holes of golf with Robert Connerly of Austin, the reputed champion of Texas, who laid out the links on the Taft place. The President invited Mr. Connerly down to get "a heating," but the young Texan led his distinguished opponent from the very first hole.

The President returned to La Quinta this afternoon for a match game of golf, and will leave Gregory at 8 p. m. for Houston, where he is due to arrive early Saturday morning. Saturday evening will be spent at Dallas, and early Sunday morning the President will leave for St. Louis, to make the four days' trip down the Mississippi to New Orleans.

NO IMMEDIATE CURTAILMENT.

Fall River Manufacturers Not Yet Ready to Bind Themselves.

FALL RIVER, Oct. 21.—While manufacturers here seem to favor the proposition of the Arkwright Club to curtail production, it cannot be learned that any have thus far committed themselves to the extent of saying that they will bind themselves to that effect. It is almost a certainty that few, if any, of the mills would be willing to assent to the feature of the project announced in the plan of the Arkwright Club given out today, which contemplates inaugurating a 50-hour-week running schedule November 1, inasmuch as the contracts of nearly all would interfere. Some have their output engaged as far ahead as February next, and in the general situation locally there is nothing to indicate any immediate purpose to curtail, whatever may develop later on.

NO DEFINITE ACTION YET.

New Bedford Does Not Care to Discuss Arkwright Decision.

NEW BEDFORD, Oct. 21.—Although the opinion among manufacturers here is that a curtailment throughout New England is desirable, it was stated this afternoon by a manufacturer that as yet no definite action relative to such curtailment had been taken.

That many of the manufacturers, however, are familiar with the recommendation of the Arkwright Club is apparent here. It is believed here that such a curtailment, if put into effect, will be stretched over a considerable portion of time, the mills running on short time for a period sufficiently long to total the number of hours recommended. On the occasion of the last curtailment here the mills were run four days or four and a half days a week.

The answer of the manufacturers to a query relative to the proposed measure is confined to the above statement, and whether they intend to consider the recommendation of the Arkwright Club in the immediate future or not they do not care to state at this time.

NOT SERIOUS IN LOWELL.

Curtailment to be Met, in Part, by Annual Summer Shut-down.

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 21.—The decision of the Arkwright Club to curtail 224 hours between now and next August will affect all the Lowell cotton mills, operating about 1,000,000 spindles. The curtailment is not regarded as very serious, however, as it appears to be left to the convenience of the mills to effect this curtailment, and it will probably in part be covered by the annual shutdown of a week or two during the summer months.

Just what method will be adopted here to curtail the 224 hours is not yet announced, although it is stated here that the Merrimack Manufacturing Company and the Massachusetts cotton mills may accomplish their entire curtailment by closing down their Southern mills instead of curtailing in the North.

DEAD MAN "CHARLES M'LEAN."

Had Traveled About Country as Schlatter, Claiming to Heal Sick.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 21.—According to local records the man found dead in Hastings, Neb., today is Charles McLean, who posed in various places as Francis Schlatter, the original Schlatter of "Divine healing" fame, who succeeded about 20 years ago to the reputation of Francis Schrader, the first self-styled Divine healer.

Schrader, after gaining great reputation in Denver and other cities, was found dead in the Colorado desert about 15 years ago. Shortly after Francis Schrader's death a man of similar appearance and methods, calling himself Francis Schlatter, began traveling about the country, claiming to heal the sick by Divine power.

In May, 1908, a man who is believed to have been McLean appeared in St. Louis with a much younger man, calling himself "Schrader." The older man posed as "Schlatter."

McLean was arrested in Des Moines, Iowa, last June, on a charge preferred by a citizen of Clinton, Iowa, that he took away a large sum of money entrusted to him for use in healing work. He posed in Clinton as Schlatter. In his ragged clothing when arrested he had $775 and three diamonds, valued at $200 each.

Schlatter and Schrader appeared in Los Angeles last winter and announced that they had established the Kingdom of the New Jerusalem on a South Sea Island, and were going to convert the world.

ALBUM HELPS CLEAR MYSTERY.

Photograph of "Schlatter" in 1871 Labelled "Dr. Charles McLean."

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 21.—A special despatch from Hastings, Neb., says:

"The mystery surrounding the dead man claiming to be Francis Schlatter was partly cleared this evening by the discovery of a family album containing a picture of the man taken in 1871. This was inscribed "Dr. Charles McLean." His literature and advertising circulars declare him to be "Francis Schlatter, Divine Healer." A receipt for an envelope deposited with the Bay State Trust Company of Boston was also found. This was placed in the care of the company last February.

For three weeks the man had been kept at the expense of the city. He said that he was the original healer who appeared in Denver, and he averred that he caused the report to be spread abroad that he had perished in the desert.

Makes Flight of 47 Miles at Blackpool Aviation Meeting.

BLACKPOOL, England, Oct. 21.—Henry Farman has received the grand prize of $10,000, awarded for the longest flight at the aviation meeting. He covered 47 miles yesterday in his best attempt. Rougier won the second prize of $3,000 in this contest. Paulhan was third, receiving $1,400.

The unfavorable weather today prevented any flights.

NORTH DAKOTA SENATOR DEAD.

Martin M. Johnson Succumbs to Second Operation for Nasal Trouble.

FARGO, N. D., Oct. 21.—United States Senator Martin M. Johnson (Republican) of this state, died tonight from an attack of acute nephritis at his hotel in this city. A week ago he submitted to a second operation for nasal trouble and was thought to be doing well. He had been a sufferer from kidney trouble for years and had complained during the past few days, but reports today were reassuring. He was suddenly attacked late today and death soon followed.

Senator Johnson was 59 years old, a native of Wisconsin and a graduate of Wisconsin University. He was eight years a member of the lower house of Congress. Senator Johnson's death leaves a vacancy to be filled by appointment by Governor Burke, a Democrat.

THE PHYSICAL TEST.

Many Senior Officers of the Army Believe Exceptions Should be Made for Those Above 62.

The military authorities may take up the question of the physical test to which officers of the army are annually subjected. Many of the senior military commanders this year have devoted themselves to a discussion, more or less extensive, of the physical test, and hardly any of them approve the requirements of the existing order. Most of them believe that an exception should be made in the case of officers who have reached 62, and have only two years to serve before the date of compulsory retirement.

Other officers believe the requirements should be materially changed, so as to have regular physical exercise without the annual "stunt," for which officers specially and spasmodically prepare, while paying no attention to the admonition that they are to have frequent physical exercise. More than this, some officers have undertaken to surpass the requirements by performing rides or walks within a third of the time indicated as necessary. This has incensed some of the senior officers, who deplore this sort of rivalry as likely seriously to interfere with the beneficial aspects of the physical test.

The War Department officials have not yet determined whether it will be necessary to make any recommendations to President Taft on the subject, and it is by no means certain that the President would be inclined to make any changes in the Roosevelt order, the effect of which has been helpful rather than harmful in many respects.

THE SAUNDERS FERRY HEARING.

No Promise of Relief to Owners of Wharves North of the New Spiling.

The hearing in Providence Wednesday in regard to the spiling for the Saunders ferry from Lopez wharf developed nothing new and gave no promise to owners of wharves to the north that the harbor commission would be able to help them. As a matter of fact, the harbor commissioners have nothing to do with Newport harbor, but considered the matter from the point of view of Narragansett bay and possible interference with the general use of the bay. This work at the Saunders ferry did not seem to come within their province. There was no question but the owners had the right to build out to the harbor line, and it made no difference whether it was spile construction or solid stone wall.

It was suggested that the channel which had been obstructed had been dredged by the city of Newport and relief could be secured by having the city dredge another channel farther out. The trouble comes, however, in making the city take that view. It has already dredged one channel, which has been blocked by the extension of a wharf, or what is equivalent to a wharf. There is no surety that, if another channel is dredged, that in turn will not be blocked by some other owner building out to the harbor line, or near it. The government was the first to block this channel, by driving the spiles for the Torpedo Station ferry, and the blocking was made still more effective by the work at the Saunders ferry.

There is one thing which certainly should be done. The sunken wharf, or more properly the small island, just south of the Newport Yacht Club house and east of the government harbor line, should be removed. The question is, who is to pay for it?

LABOR ASKS CABINET PLACE.

Desires Representative with Powers Equal to Other Members.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—In order that the vast army of wage earners in this country may have one of their representatives in the President's cabinet labor leaders have decided to wage their fight with renewed vigor before Congress to obtain legislation to establish a department of labor, with a secretary co-equal with the secretaries of other departments.

This question was the foremost topic before the executive council at the American Federation of Labor today and that body authorized the preparation of a bill which will be introduced in Congress soon after it convenes. To obtain its passage an active campaign will be carried on among the nation's legislators.

STILL CABRERA IS BLAMED.

Supporting Nicaraguan Revolution, and Therefore Responsible for It.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Oct. 21.—It is still believed here that President Cabrera of Guatemala is responsible in a measure, if not entirely, for the revolution at Bluefields, because he has been supporting it with expeditions from Puerto Barrios and other places.

Advices received here state that a steamer which was on its way to Guatemala to procure war supplies has been seized by the authorities of Honduras. No decisive engagement between the revolutionists and the government forces has yet been fought. The Nicaraguan government has many troops at El Castillo and Managua, but heavy rains are impeding active operations.

SALT RHEUM 4 YEARS

Began Like a Ringworm on Hand —Washing Irritated It and It Spread Over Arm and Face.

WHOLLY CURED BY CUTICURA

"A little over six years ago I had a sore come on my hand. A doctor told me it was a ringworm. It kept on getting worse so I went to another doctor. He called it salt rheum. I kept on taking his treatment for some time, but every washday my hand would break out and be worse. It continued to spread till it got over my whole hand and up my arm, also on my face. I suffered with the disease about four years when a friend told me to try Cuticura. I got two cakes of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. When I had used them up, I was cured and I haven't seen the least sign of it since. Mrs. Linda Winslow, Wyalusing, Penn., July 13, '08."

Hot Baked Ham Cold Mutton Loaf
Lattliced Potatoes Hot Biscuit
Jellied Tomato Salad Saltines
Sugared Fruit in Glass Cups
Cakes Coffee or Tea

Croutons For Soup—From a stale loaf of bread cut half inch slices. Trim off the crusts, then cut into half inch dices. For 16 persons about a pint and a half will be needed. In a fry pan heat a tablespoonful of butter; drop in about one third of the bread dice and toss until colored a golden brown on all sides. Brown the remainder in the same way. Spread on unglazed paper and let stand until a few minutes before supper, then slide paper and all on a flat pan and place in a moderate oven just long enough to heat through.

Bread Sticks—From risen bread sponge made with milk take about a pint. Add to it the slightly beaten whites of two eggs and one teaspoonful of melted butter. Add flour to make a dough, knead and raise precisely as if making bread. From the risen dough pull off bits the size of an egg and roll them on the board with the hands until they are about the length and thickness of lead pencils. Place an inch apart on greased flat pans, let raise, brush with beaten egg white and bake in slow oven until pale brown.

Hot Baked Ham—Wash and scrub the ham thoroughly, then let soak over night in cold water. Put on in a kettle of cold water. In a thin piece of muslin tie loosely a dozen whole cloves, a half teaspoonful of allspice berries, a half teaspoonful of peppercorns, a half inch of stick cinnamon and a half teaspoonful of celery seed. Drop this in the kettle with one small peeled onion, heat slowly and simmer for two hours and a half; strip off the skin, then let cool in the water. Next morning lift the ham from the kettle to a baking pan. Fill the pan with two thirds full of hot cider, adding to it if rather sharp, a tablespoonful or more of sugar. Baste often and bake in a hot oven for three hours. Mix together a half of a cupful of coarse dry bread crumbs, one tablespoonfuls of sugar, a teaspoonful of flour and a pinch each of pepper, ground cinnamon and cloves. Half an hour before taking from the oven spread this over the top of the ham and allow it to brown and crisp. Skim about four tablespoonfuls of fat from the top of the cider in the pan, put it in a saucepan, mix with it two tablespoonfuls of flour and let cook for a moment. Gradually stir in a cupful each of cider and beef stock, boil for five minutes, add seasoning if needed and strain into a gravy boat.

Cold Mutton Loaf—From a small leg of mutton (raw) cut off sufficient lean meat to weigh four pounds. Put it twice through the food chopper, then work into it with the hands four slightly beaten eggs, two tablespoonfuls of onion juice or one good sized onion, chopped very fine, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one scant teaspoonful of paprika, one pint of fine dry bread crumbs, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a pinch of mace. Wet an oblong pan and in it pack the mixture. When it has the shape of the pan turn it out carefully on a greased dripping pan. Cover the top with thin slices of fat salt pork, and bake in a moderate oven for two hours and a quarter, basting frequently with a little mutton broth. Set away until perfectly cold. Cut in thin slices with a very sharp knife and arrange on a platter, garnishing with parsley or watercress.

Lattliced Potatoes—Pare good sized potatoes and cut in thin latticed or fluted slices. Rinse thoroughly, then drop into cold water for at least half an hour. Have ready a kettle partly filled with smoking hot fat. Dry a handful of slices at a time on a cloth and drop into the fat. Stir with a skimmer that they may not adhere to one another and as soon as colored a pale brown, skim out and drain on unglazed paper. To re-heat, spread them on fresh paper on flat pans and stand in a warm oven. Do not salt until served, or they will lose their crispness.

Puree of Mushrooms—Pick, peel and wash one pound of mushrooms; cut them in pieces with a silver knife; put them in a porcelain saucepan, add one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one tablespoonful of boiling water, one quarter of a tablespoonful of salt; stir the mushrooms with a silver spoon and cook for two minutes. Let them cool, then drain and pound them in a mortar to a paste; add them to the liquor and press the whole through a puree sieve, a hair sieve is the best. Put one quart of milk into a double boiler; rub together one tablespoonful of butter and two tablespoonfuls of flour; stir into the milk, cook until creamy, add the mushrooms, season with salt and pepper, and it is ready to serve.

Mushroom Stew, No. 1.—A puree of mushrooms; cut in pieces, a quart of fresh mushrooms; soak in cold water into which the juice of a lemon has been squeezed. Drain, put in a saucepan with a tablespoonful of butter; when half cooked, add the juice of a lemon and let it simmer until done; pour the sauce over and let it cook until thick; strain and serve.

Mushroom Stew, No. 2.—Wash and peel one-half of a gallon of mushrooms; put them in a saucepan without water, season with salt and pepper; add one-half of a pound of butter rolled in two tablespoonfuls of flour; cover closely and let simmer until tender.

Broiled Mushrooms—Peel large, firm mushrooms, remove the stems, lay on a close gridiron over bright coals, turn, season with pepper and salt, take up on a heated dish, pour over melted butter with a little lemon juice.

Fried Mushrooms—Take large, fresh mushrooms and prepare as for boiling; roll in grated cracker, dip in egg, again in the cracker, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and fry in butter; garnish with slices of lemon.

Baked Mushrooms—Select large firm mushrooms; peel, place on oval croutons and set on a baking pan; season with salt and pepper, a little lemon juice and chopped parsley; cook for eight or 10 minutes, baste with butter, arrange the croutons on a dish and pour the gravy over. Serve with Maitre d'Hotel sauce in a gravy boat.

Coquilles de Champignons—Cut fresh mushrooms in small pieces. Put in boiling water for a few minutes, then throw them in cold water; wipe dry and fry in butter. When half done, shake a little flour and chopped parsley in, pour over it a teaspoonful of soup stock and let simmer for 15 minutes. Just before taking up, beat two eggs with the juice of a lemon and stir in. Fill shells with this mixture, sprinkle grated cracker on top, and brown in a very hot oven. Serve hot.

"THE CLUE."

Detective Story Dealing With the Murder of a Young Heiress, by Carolyn Wells.

Carolyn Wells shows her versatility by her new book, which is a detective story. "The Clue" seems a far cry from humorous limerick anthologies and amusing stories. The work is skilfully done, the reader's attention being held from start to finish. It is the kind of stry which one wishes to read at a sitting. All who like tales of mystery, or detective stories, will thoroughly enjoy "The Clue."

Madeline Van Norman commits suicide or is murdered the night before her wedding. The circumstances point to murder, although at first the theory of suicide is believed to be the true solution. The guests are shocked and horrified beyond measure. Miss Van Norman was a beautiful girl of the haughty, imperious type. It was well known among her friends that she was not happy over her approaching marriage. She had doubts of the constancy of her fiance, Schuyler Carleton, whom she feared loved another woman. Naturally suspicion falls on Carleton, who is unnerved and grief-stricken by the tragedy.

One of the guests, Bob Fessenden, is something of an amateur detective and takes charge of the case in an informal way. He suspects one person after another, but each chain of evidence has a weak spot which causes it to break to pieces. One of Madeline's friends, pretty Kitty French, joins him in his search. Finally a regular detective is called in, but Mr. Fairbanks is no more successful than Fessenden. Becoming convinced of their own failure, both Fairbanks and Fessenden suggest that Fleming Stone, a celebrated detective, be employed. Mr. Stone, therefore, takes charge of the case. In less than 24 hours after his arrival he discovers who the criminal is and how the deed was done. The denouement is dramatic, ending in another tragedy.

CHINA'S POSITION IN IRON AND STEEL.

Imagine a river connecting our Lake Superior ore deposits with Pittsburg, a river navigable to tow boats and barges, another similar river suited for bringing down coal and coke, and a river navigable to ocean-going vessels connecting Pittsburg with tidewater, and one has a rough sketch of the position in China. The Hanyan iron and steel works are 600 miles inland on the Yangtse-Kiang river, navigable to large ocean-going steamers. The 60 per cent ore is towed 200 miles down another river to the works. Erection of the plant was started in 1891, the original plan being that of using ore from a point some 75 miles down the Yangtse-Kiang river, with coal mined near the plant. The coal proved unsuitable for smelting, and the present system has supplanted the original. The works are nothing, from the American standpoint, producing only about 500 tons of pig iron daily, while the duplex steel plant involves two 15-ton converters, now being installed with four open-hearth furnaces making about 250 tons of steel ingots daily.

While very little relatively is known of the geology of China, enough is known to make obvious that there are vast possibilities. We used to be amused by the tales of American and British engineers who had had experience with Chinese methods and Chinese labor. The ridiculous inefficiency of the labor and the adherence of the people to awful traditions baited our risibilities, but those are things which can change. The fact that China has been so utterly immature is the best evidence of what can be done in the future, when already China has at will sent her pig iron into the United States.

JAMESTOWN PROBATE NOTICES.

ADMINISTRATION NOTICE.

Jamestown, R. I., October 15th, 1909.

The undersigned hereby gives notice that he has been appointed by the Probate Court of the Town of Jamestown, R. I., Administrator of the estate of Elizabeth C. Carr, late of said Jamestown, deceased, and has given bond according to law.

All persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file the same in the office of the clerk of said court within six months from the date of the first advertisement hereof.

SILAS CARR.

Probate Court of the Town of Jamestown, R. I.

Estate of Edward N. Hammond.

At a meeting of the Probate Court of the Town of Jamestown held on September 29th, A. D. 1909, John E. Hammond, Administrator on estate of Edward N. Hammond, late of said Jamestown, deceased, presents his petition, representing that the personal estate of said deceased is not sufficient to pay the debts which said deceased owed, the expenses of his funeral and of supporting his family, and settling his estate according to law; that said deceased at the time of his death was seized and possessed of all that certain Farm or tract of land with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in the Town of Jamestown, County of Newport and State of Rhode Island, bounded and described as follows: Northerly by land of John A. Carr; Easterly by the North Main Road and by land now or formerly of George Wm. Watson; Southerly by land of John E. Brayman now or formerly of George Wm. Watson and by land of Thomas A. H. Tefft and Westerly by Narragansett Bay said tract or parcel of land containing eighty acres of land more or less.

And further representing that by a sale of only so much of said real estate as is absolutely needed, the residue thereof would be so much injured as to render the sale of the whole estate more advantageous to those interested therein.

And praying that he may be authorized to sell the whole of said estate, to make up the deficiency of the personal estate at private sale for the purpose aforesaid, with incidental charges and said petition is received and referred to the 25th day of October A. D. 1909, at 1:30 o'clock P. M. at the Probate Court Room in said Town for consideration; and it is ordered that notice thereof be published for fourteen days, once a week, in the Newport Daily News of Newport, R. I.

THE RECOMPENSE.

[Pall Mall Gazette.]

A star fell down night's shadowed way
And blazing into dust
Fulfilled with one brief brilliant ray
Its message and its trust.

For pleasure and disaster flew
Beside that gleaming road;
While worlds unnamed its message knew,
And feared the fate it showed.

And looking down its shadowed path
The Lord of All did smile;
Since half His creatures there did laugh,
And half did weep the while.

Thus in each darkened life may gleam
One brilliant hour of joy;
Bearing a message like some dream
That men cannot destroy.

OCTOBER SESSION ENDS.

Two Strange Cases, for Damages, in Dealings Regarding Purchase of Influence, Before the Court.

Judge Stearns presided in the superior court this morning.

The case of Levy Norbury vs. Daniel J. Buckley was set for trial. It was discovered that it had been sent to an auditor, and the jurors went on their way rejoicing, as there was no other case to require their services.

In Mary H. Horgan vs William H. Hoger, judgment was entered by consent of counsel, Messrs. Nolan and Levy, for plaintiff, for $1,000, trustee charged $177.79.

Two strange cases, both entitled Theresa B. Towler vs Ruth A. Moulton, et al., were up for hearing on demurrer, Mr. Easton of Providence appearing for plaintiff and Mr. Levy for the defense. They are actions to recover damages because the parties had dealings in which plaintiff was to pay certain money, being desirous to procure a license to run a resort where liquor was to be sold and immoral practices carried on. It was represented, it is alleged, that legislation and license would be procured for plaintiff, the money to be paid to defendant for influence and to be given to persons "for their influence in granting a license." The court decided that the last clause spoiled plaintiff's case, the demurrer of Mr. Levy being sustained. Mr. Levy then suggested that the whole case must fall, but the court was ruling on the way the case was stated, not on the case, and allowed plaintiff to try once more to state a case which would be considered by the court.

At 10:20 the court adjourned to meet according to law.

THE ARMY AND NAVY Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT.

The Naval Temperance Club held its second meeting Thursday evening in the social room of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association, with President C. E. Williams in the chair. A number of members of the club from the Reina Mercedes volunteered to assist in the ushering at the entertainment to be held for the benefit of the social work of the Army and Navy Association, in which a chorus of 50 apprentice seamen accompanied by the Training Station orchestra, will sing. A number of soldiers from Fort Adams will also take part in the entertainment, which will be given by the women of the local churches. The program will consist of living pictures of the Civil war, in which members of the Grand Army of the Republic will take part. The army and navy officers have expressed their willingness to assist in making the affair a success and have given their consent to the use of equipment and orchestra.

DONATION DAY'S SUCCESS.

Donation day at the Newport Hospital Thursday was successful in bringing to the institution a large number and variety of contributions, including vegetables, fruit, bedclothes, linen and other cloth, and many other useful articles. The receiving committee—Mrs. John Ireys, Miss Martha Landers, Mrs. Darius Baker, Mrs. B. B. H. Sherman, Mrs. Harry G. Wilks, Mrs. Sypher, Mrs. W. N. Hill, Mrs. William J. Cozzens, and Mrs. Clark Burdick, representing the Women's Association, was kept busily at work during the day. In the afternoon the hospital was open for inspection and many who brought donations remained to visit the institution in its various departments.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Professor Agassiz has closed his villa near Castle Hill.

—Mrs. John J. Mason has gone to New York for a few days.

—Mr. E. C. Post, who has been ill for some time, is able to drive out.

—Captain Champion's 15-footer Dixie has been laid up for the winter.

—Mr. Charles Whittaker, who has been ill for a week, is able to be out.

—Dredger Newport is here to do work at Bowen's and Sullivan's docks.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Gunther have gone to New York and will sail for Europe next week.

—Mrs. E. G. Hartshorn is at "Halidon Hill," with her son-in-law, Mr. A. Livingston Mason.

—Owing to an accident at the Edgefield Tea House, the cottage will be closed today for the season.

—Edward L. Spencer has rented, for Mrs. Randall the lower floor at 18 Second street, to Frank E. Clarke.

—C. H. Wrightington has rented for John Nelson the upper half of his house corner Broadway and Park street to Albert Hamilton.

—Late arrivals at the Perry House include Henry Davis, Oak Bluffs; F. W. Wilbur, C. H. Benlick, New York; Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Link, Boston; F. W. Bailey, Newark.

—At the annual meeting of the Rhode Island branch, Woman's Board of Missions, in Central Congregational Church's Memorial chapel in Providence Thursday, Mrs. Walter S. Langley of this city was elected one of the vice presidents.

—Charles H. Koehne has sold to Ellen, wife of James O. King, the estate bounded north, 64 feet on land of the grantee; east, 45 feet, on land of the Old Colony Railroad Company; south, 64 feet, on a way, and west, 46 feet, on land of Kate Barnum.

—A number of Italian-American citizens met Thursday evening and organized the Italian Protective and Political Association, which will be incorporated soon. A meeting will be held next week, to which a general invitation to Italian citizens will be extended, when action will be taken regarding the support of candidates at the next election.

—Chief Manchester was in this morning with one prisoner, who received a sentence of six months. Newport had one who received the same sentence, for sleeping out. The local police had a search for a woman who had wandered from home and about whom her family was anxious. The search was needless, as she returned and allayed their fears.

—E. S. Marsh has sold for Miss Cordelia E. Roscoe the cottage house, with improvements, bounded southerly on Hall avenue, 50 feet; easterly on land now or formerly belonging to Catherine Horgan and partly on land of John Donovan, 100 feet; northerly on land now or formerly of William R. Dodge, 50 feet, and westerly on land now or formerly of Rebecca M. Lawton and Joseph E. Lawton, 100 feet. The purchasers are Florence J. Harvey and wife.

—Two new Powers machines have recently been added to the equipment of the Bijou, which under the management of George Lear, the operator, produce pictures especially clear and distinct, and the best ever shown in the Bijou. The audiences Thursday evening heard the song, "Sing Me to Sleep," well rendered by Miss Dora Hayler, who has a sweet voice, with accompaniments on the violin by Miss Carol Carolla and by Miss Lena Finn, the regular pianist. Carol Carolla also gave selections on the violin with piano accompaniment.

SHE WAS AMELIA ST. JEAN.

Remains of Dead Girl Identified by Her Mother.

Final Decision as to Contents of the Stomach Also Dispels Doubts in the Case.

From Fall River this afternoon comes reports which seem to show that the police are gradually solving certain doubts which they had in the murder case. It is announced that Mrs. St. Jean has positively identified the remains found in Tiverton as those of her missing daughter, Amelia. This disposes of the doubt as to whether or not the body was that of the St. Jean girl, and also of the absolute need of securing the head.

The chemist who examined the stomach also reports now that there were no carrots among the food last eaten by the dead girl. It was known to the girl's aunt that she had no carrots at dinner, yet the chemist's report at first gave carrots as part of the contents of the stomach.

District Attorney Swift, who has been skeptical about the points found by the police, now states that there is no reason for charging the charge against Hill from the original charge of murder, and it is on that charge that he will be arraigned Monday. The Thibault man seems to have dropped from the story and it is understood will be discharged Monday.

Another autopsy was made Thursday afternoon by the Massachusetts authorities, to learn if the cause of death could be ascertained. In view of the decision that the death took place in Fall River and the trial must take place in Massachusetts an autopsy by the state authorities was necessary. The results of the findings of the medical examiners will be reported to Assistant Attorney General Swift, who has charge of the case at present.

In Fall River interest seemed to centre about the house in which "Professor" Hill's office was situated. This has been considerably torn to pieces, looking for evidence. General Cook, owner of the premises, having given the police a free hand. The ground outside was dug up, searching for traces of the burial of the head.

An automobile glass, with the machine number found on Bulgar Marsh road, has lead to an inquiry of the owner, a Fall River man, who explained that he had been near the road last Sunday and the glass, which was broken, had probably fallen out then. There was little chance that the glass was in the road all the week without being seen.

The Tiverton authorities are still at work, though without the aid of the reporters, all of whom seem to have forsaken the town for the search in Fall River. The "blood" stains found near Bay street by Inspector Perron turn out to be iron rust, and another "clue" is gone. In Tiverton Thursday a silk patchwork cover, apparently for a small stand, was found near where the box which contained the torso was found. This was apparently blood-soaked and may prove a valuable clue. It was well made and perhaps will be recognized by some one.

The report is out that the city of Fall River will offer a reward for the discovery of the head. The town of Tiverton, when it was supposed the murder might have been committed within its borders, offered a reward for the head and this led to a great deal of amateur searching, which greatly aided the police.

PROMISE OF BETTER FISHING.

Some fish have been caught off the Jersey shore, and in consequence the price dropped in the New York market. This means that the local men are not shipping, but are stowing their fish in the cold storage plant and will bring it out when the prices goes up, as it is sure to do.

There is, however, promise of better things locally. Thursday C. B. Anderson landed about seven barrels of fair-sized mackerel in his traps and they were received with joy. Today C. A. Easterbrooks had about 400 of the same size. He also had some bluefish, buck shad and herring, which are all promising signs, not to talk about their value. Captain Christian T. Luth brought in 40 mackerel, caught with hand lines. These are the first mackerel caught off here this fall with hand lines and give the amateur fishermen hope, for once the fish begin biting they expect some fun.

PIE AND LONG LIFE.

[Cleveland Leader.]

Let us all raise our hats to Benjamin West, near-centenarian; let the bands play "Dixie" for him, as he is a Southerner, and let the raucous "rebel yell" rasp our throats in his honor. He has bridged the gulf between North and South better than commerce and politics and religion. We can shake his hands and call him "brother," in the best acceptance of the term. Pie is the bridge to such confraternity.

As agile as a mountain goat; as ruddy as a Britisher, save for his abundant white hair; as straight as an Indian and as energetic and untiring as an African lion hunter, Mr. West is 97 years old. When he was young he was sickly, and 30 was fixed as his time limit. Now he's going to round the century mark, and he owes it, he says, to pie. And to no one kind of pie in particular. The fabled Kentuckian's endorsement of whiskey applies to this Southerner's approval of pie. It has been his staple diet all these years. He has had it morning, noon and night—"layered, unlayered and cross-barred"—and it has served him as well as if he had discovered the Fountain of Youth.

Let dyspeptics and dietarians gnash their teeth at him for upsetting their code of life and their wonderful theories. He will not answer back. He will not even show his teeth. He is getting them deep in pie. And let the news go to that school superintendent out West who argued for pie on the menu of the children because it made them brawny and brainy. With such a shoring up of his belief, that teacher will be invulnerable.

Let the good news go whooping along, too, until it reaches the ears of the doctor who, in session with his fellows, argued for pie for the breakfast table, in the good old new England manner. He pointed out the stalwart men and the strong and sensible women who ate it every morning, and his argument was powerful. When he finds out that Mr. West, a Virginian, can be used as an even more vigorous example of his views on the wholesomeness of pie, the world will begin to look at it through his rosy spectacles.

And into this category should come Mrs. Wyman, aged 70, of Pittsfield, Mass., the greatest pielaker of the universe, bar none. One day last week she broke her own unapproachable record. She made 72 pies of nine different varieties, as follows: Custard, apple, coconnut, prune, raisin, squash, chocolate, blueberry and lemon. Mrs. Wyman did the work alone, and had it finished by noon. Imagine the health and the happiness that would spring from them!

MORE THAN HALF AN INCH.

Though It Rained Pretty Hard, the Addition to the Pond Only Equalled the Consumption.

It rained some Thursday night, and people who had been lured to go out and enjoy the balmy air of the early evening went home, wet, though those who took warning were able to reach cover before umbrellas were really in order. Then it came down rather harder, and finally there was for this season a heavy rain. The total was .59 of an inch, according to the rain gauge at the Water Works station. That is a pretty fair rainfall, but the earth was a big sponge and was so craving for the rain that it seemed no more than a drop in a hogshead. There was enough, however, so that the addition to the Paradise pond was equal to the consumption Thursday, which means an inch and a half or so, and that is not to be despised.

This morning opened in regular summer style; in fact, it was about as summerish as one could ask for who had summer clothes which he did not wish to stop wearing. The wind was southwest and the sun was doing its best until about 11, when a change seemed imminent.

SAILED ON THE MECHANIC.

John Utter Visits His Surviving Shipmates, Messrs. Gladding and Buchanan, Here.

John Utter, formerly of this city and now of Providence, has been in town the past two days, calling on old friends, particularly his only two known living shipmates on the old ship Mechanic, John Gladding and Aaron Buchanan. The old whaler sailed from this city many years ago with a crew of Newporters, one of whom was the late Lawton Coggeshall, but so far as can be learned all but three are now dead.

Mr. Utter formerly conducted a candy store in the Young block, corner of Thames street and Washington square; was an acting ensign in the Civil war, serving on the Brooklyn with Admiral Farragut, and at the time of the Philadelphia Centennial was chief pattern maker for the Corliss Engine Works and as such had charge of the setting up of the big engine which was considered such a wonderful thing at the Exposition.

"THE CHORUS LADY."

Rose Stahl and Six of the Veteran Company, With Others, Give a Good Performance.

A large audience, but not so large as one might reasonably expect from the international reputation of Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," assembled at the Opera House Thursday evening to see the well known star in the play which has been on the stage almost continuously for the past three years in this country and in England. The audience was representative and enthusiastic in its welcome of Miss Stahl, and its show of appreciation of the actress and play, curtain calls being given at the close of each act.

Miss Stahl as Patricia O'Brien has a novel part, which she handles with skill in its various phases and shadings, and whether in the portions which occasion laughter or in the more pathetic parts she is equally good—in fact, is the character to a nicety. She is supported by six of the company which has been with her from the beginning of the long run of the play—Alice Leigh vs. Mrs. O'Brien, Isabel Goodwin as Nora O'Brien, Giles Shine at Patrick O'Brien, Wilfred Lucas as Dan Malloroy and Claire Lane as Sylvia Simpson. These all showed the results of long familiarity with their parts and gave a finished portrayal of the characters.

Stanley Jessup was good as Dick Crawford and Kenyon Bishop capital as Georgia Adams Coote, the wardrobe woman. The other characters were in capable hands and the production was entirely enjoyable. The scene of the second act, the chorus dressing room at a New York theatre, and the lively dialogue of the chorus women, was as usual one of the hits of the play.

LAND "BATTLE BOAT" PLANNED.

Acting Secretary Winthrop Examines Proposed Vessel and Sees No Value in It to Navy.

Responding to a letter from a Massachusetts man who writes that he has plans for a battleboat which will go on land or water, Acting Secretary Winthrop of the Navy says that a careful examination of the description of the proposed vessel does not disclose any features of value for the navy. The inventor says his ship is proof against torpedoes, has armor plate which heavy cannon would not hurt and is equipped with guns to fight off aeroplanes.

MONEY IN BUTTERFLIES.

[Technical World Magazine.]

If a man in need of money will but go to the beautiful, civilized and well settled island of Jamaica, British West Indies, and catch butterflies, it seems us if he might get along. There is one variety there, a big handsome fellow known to science as Papilio homerus, for which $20 each is offered, right on the spot. There are many other tropical butterflies for which eager buyers in many parts of the world will pay prices ranging from a few cents to a few hundred dollars each. Nor need the man who seeks wealth with a butterfly net confine his seeking to the West Indies. Down in Central America is a finer field for his cultivation. If he will go into South America he will do as well, probably better, for butterflies of extraordinary beauty of iridescent coloring abound there. One family of South America butterflies, the Morphos, having a wing expanse of about six inches from tip to tip with a coloring of a wonderful, iridescent metallic blue above with exquisite owl-like eye spots beneath, are eagerly sought by collectors, not only for museums but also for ornaments. Even a broken wing of one of the beautiful Morphos finds a market.

NEW YORK BANKERS DISAGREE.

Influence of American Operations on Bank of England Advance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—New York bankers are not entirely agreed as to the influence of New York credit operations in having forced the sensational advances of the last two weeks in the Bank of England official discount rate. Current estimates of New York borrowers from foreign markets have run as high as $500,000,000 for the season, but Jacob H. Schiff asserts that much exaggeration has attended these estimates.

It is a fact, however, that New York Clearing House banks contracted a loan account of $110,000,000 from the last week in August to October 16, without evidence of any corresponding liquidation in the stock market. These loans were supposed to have been transferred, to a large extent, to foreign banks. At the same time, the country's foreign trade has been abnormal in the heavy value of imports and the scanty exports, leaving no adequate supply of exchange to meet maturing indebtedness abroad. Plans for flotation of new bond issues also have been held up, in which foreign bankers were expected to participate, and thus take up portions of maturing indebtedness.

Miscalculation of the autumn money markets is admitted to have resulted from these abnormal conditions. The rapid rise in foreign exchange rates in New York for several days past show that foreigners are insisting on the payment of maturing indebtedness, and indicate that exports of gold may be involved in meeting the requirements.

DEATH OF ALBERT MEISSNER.

Emperor's Privy Councillor Served Germany Fifty-four Years.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—Privy Councillor Albert Meissner, principal private secretary to Emperor William throughout the latter's reign, died during the night. From the first of his illness the emperor inquired daily regarding his faithful servant, and today he telegraphed to the widow, saying that he wished her to know how much he missed Meissner, "to whom I gave my complete confidence."

Meissner was a man of large wealth, but lived simply and gave 54 years of service to the state. He was active in charity work.

KEROSENE-SOAKED RAGS FOUND

New Hall of Maine Grange Burned, Probably by Incendiary.

NORTH BERWICK, Me., Oct. 22.—A fire of suspected incendiary origin burned the new hall of Beaver Dam Grange today, causing a loss of $3,500, on which there is an insurance of $1,500. An attempt was made a month ago to burn the building, which is a two-story frame structure, kerosene-soaked rags being found in the hallway. No arrests have been made. The hall was dedicated last December.

FAVORS A LONGER SEASON.

President of the Cubs Thinks Games Should Cover Contract Time.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—President Murphy of the Cubs has put himself on record as favoring a longer season of base ball. The present season of 154 games begins April 15 and ends the first week in October, while the players are under contract from April 15 to October 15.

"I can't say just how many games I would favor," he said, "but it seems to me that the season ought to be extended to cover the period the players' contracts cover."

PLEADS GUILTY TO BRIBERY.

Former Good Roads President Admitted to $2,000 Bail.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 22.—Just at the close of court yesterday North Newton, formerly president of the Good Roads Association, pleaded guilty to three indictments charging acceptance of bribes in connection with road contracts. In company with W. H. Cole and J. C. Hanni, who had pleaded guilty earlier, he was admitted to $2,000 bail, sentence not being pronounced. Twelve men are left facing trial.

"1915" BOSTON EXPOSITION.

People of the Hub to See Needs of the City and How They May be Met.

Preparations for the "1915" Boston exposition in November have reached the stage of placing the exhibits in position for display in the show, which is to open Monday, November 1. Final allotments of space were made this week and considerable material is already in the building. A clearer idea can now be given of what this showing of civic activities will consist. There are about 200 exhibits.

The "1915" exposition will include the sort of features that have been prominent in the city planning exhibits that were recently made in New York and Washington, but it will be a great deal more live and interesting. This will be accomplished through many practical and graphic features, some of them in action, by which various interests will show what is being accomplished in their particular fields.

The object of the exposition is to show the citizens of Boston and the surrounding places within the metropolitan area, what are the present needs of the city and how these needs may be met. "It is intended to give every organization interested in the betterment of Boston an opportunity to show the public what it is planning to do, and what it would like to have the public feel it ought to be supported in doing for the next five years."

The former Art Museum building on Copley Square has been renovated and considerably altered. Walls and ceilings have been re-decorated, new doorways cut through solid brick walls, lecture or entertainment halls constructed, and other changes made to suit the needs of the building's new public service.

Aside from the features of the exposition of popular interest, like the performing Marionettes, such as delight Italian residents in the North End, moving pictures showing civic conditions as well as providing entertainment, music, stereopticon lectures, there will be numerous displays by practically all the prominent organizations in Greater Boston. The Boston Public, Boston Athenaeum, Cambridge, Somerville and Massachusetts state libraries will have an interesting section, a portion of which will show the location of libraries, use of reading rooms and circulation of books. A dental hygiene exhibit to show the importance of public clinics, as well as personal care for the preservation of teeth for health's sake, will be one of the hygienic features.

An aviation department will unquestionably attract much popular attention. Here will be the aeroplane with which Glenn H. Curtiss won international honors at Rheims; also large models of Wright brothers and Zeppelin airships.

The religious agencies of the city have combined to make use of a large section of space with graphic exhibits to illustrate various church activities. Exhibits will include practically every religious interest and every creed and denomination.

The exposition committee hopes to have an Arctic exploration display unlike anything heretofore seen here in Boston, which will have a timely interest through the Cook and Peary complication.

There is a wide variety of diversified showings of what Boston is doing, or should be doing, in social, educational and economic affairs, such as schools, charities, labor, street and park making and improvement, transportation, health, playgrounds, gymnasiums, city planning, city resources, etc., to make the city a better and more agreeable place to live in. Models of Boston and sections of the city have been especially made for this show. Models, charts and other graphic means of showing what is done in large cities, that might be done in Boston or in other New England cities, have been gathered from Germany, England and from various parts of the United States.

The exposition is not a money-making enterprise, for no charge for exhibition space is made to the philanthropic and civic organizations which make most of the display. A few commercial exhibits, the only ones that pay for space occupied, will be restricted to such things as relate to the Exposition.

STUDIES ABOUT WORDS.

[Chicago News.]

What precisely is the origin of the expression "a windfall??" An old encyclopaedia explains that some families of the English nobility held their lands on a tenure which forbade them to cut down trees, these being reserved as the property of the royal navy. But any trees which fell down without human assistance they might keep, so that a hurricane causing a great "windfall" was heartily welcome. It seems probable, however, that the expression was simpler in origin. Even an apple that fell to the ground without the trouble of picking it, and which a passer-by might often annex without feeling that he was a thief, would be a lucky "windfall."

"Adventurer" is a word, once highly respectable, that has degenerated with the lapse of time. It was once a compliment to call a gentleman an adventurer, and the Merchant Venturers of Bristol, England, are still respected. The Hudson's Bay company dates from May 2, 1670. In the royal charter it was described as the "Governor and Company of Adventurers of England Trading in Hudson's Bay."

"Alcohol" is really the Arabic "alkohl"—"al" being the definite article, as in "algebra" (the equation) and "alkali" (the soda ashes), and "kohl" the black powder wherewith the Eastern beauties stained their eyelids. But "alcohol" came to be used for any finely triturated or sublimated powder, and then for sublimated liquids. "Alcohol of wine," being the most interesting of these, it gradually took the name entirely to itself.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mrs. Troth, who has been visiting here, has returned to Philadelphia.

—Mr. R. L. Beeckman has gone to Long Island, to join Mrs. Beeckman.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lorall have returned from a few days' visit to New York.

—Mr. Charles F. Hoffman, who has been spending a few days in New York, has returned.

—Mrs. J. K. Alley, accompanied by her daughter, Louise, will return from New York Saturday.

—Mr. Oscar Wellerman, electrician at the Torpedo Station, has been granted ten days' leave of absence.

—E. L. Watts and T. J. Forrest, of Boston and Charles W. Cassidy are registered at the United States Hotel.

—About 26 persons braved the fall weather and witnessed the naval brigade drill at the Training Station Thursday afternoon.

—Captain James T. Bulfrick, Marine Corps, has been detached from the Virginia and ordered to command the marine detachment of the Nebraska.

—The Newport Coal Company finished discharging barge South American today, loaded with bituminous coal for the Naval Training Station. Schooner Millie Frank is discharging wood at the company's wharf.

—The painters will complete their work at the new Young Men's Christian Association today. The electrician is putting up the light fixtures and will finish next week, while the steam men are about through and the building is almost ready to be turned over by the contractors.

—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Parsons are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son Wednesday night at the Fifth Avenue home of Mrs. Parsons's father, Mr. Henry Clews, in New York. Mrs. Henry Clews, who has been abroad for some time, will return to New York the first week in November.

—The marriage of Miss Marjorie Luce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Luce, formerly of this city, to Mr. William I. Seaman of New York took place Thursday in St. Paul's Church, Stapleboro, Long Island. Mr. and Mrs. Seaman will leave New York tomorrow for a four months' tour in Europe.

—Major Blake from Fort Greble and Lieutenant Montfort from Fort Adams were at Fort Rodman Wednesday, to witness the practice with the 8-inch disappearing guns at a moving target. The first shot fired put the target out of commission, so that a rest was taken while repairs were made. The practice was excellent and Captain Ordway was congratulated on the good showing made by the gunners.

A TRAGEDY OF THE DESERT.

Wavering Footprints on Sand Tell of Desperate Search for Water.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 22.—T. H. Kellogg, a rancher, while riding across the Mojave desert in the Carlsbo creek country yesterday, came across the tracks of two teams. The wandering trails indicated that the drivers either were lost or did not have control of mind left. He followed the trails and finally came on a camp wagon and a buggy, and farther away a horse dying of thirst. Here, evidently, was the starting point of a greater tragedy.

Following the trail farther, Mr. Kellogg discovered the tracks of a man and a woman and three children. Uneven at times, retreating and wavering in purpose, as though the travelers did not know which way to turn, the footprints on the sand told of the search for water against a desperately growing need. Sometimes the trail of one or the other children disappeared, indicating that the father or the mother had expended a last drop of energy in carrying their dying little ones. The trail followed the bed of a dry creek for many miles, and then led off to that country from which few travelers return. Where the lost ones are is unknown. Kellogg returned to civilization, and searching parties were started out at once, but no word has been received.

A POSSUM IN A MAIL BOX.

Package Started for Taft as Joke May Result in Serious Trouble.

LEESVILLE, Va., Oct. 22.—A short time ago a party of young people of this town went on an old-fashioned 'possum hunt, capturing several animals. Some time during the same night some one placed a 'possum in the package apartment of the postoffice and addressed it to President Taft. It was found next morning by the postmaster, after the animal had chewed up and destroyed all the mail in the box. The matter was reported to the postal authorities, and what was started as a practical joke may result in serious trouble for the perpetrators.

NEW CABINET IN OFFICE IN SPAIN.

King Alfonso implored Premier Maura, Senor Dato, former minister of the interior, and other leaders of parliament not to add to the difficulties in which the kingdom is placed. Maura thereupon asked the majority to support the new ministry.

When the president of the Chamber of Deputies made the announcement of the cabinet's resignation it was received with such an ear-splitting uproar that he was forced to adjourn the sitting.

On the receipt of the resignation of the premier and his ministers, Moret y Prendergast undertook to form a new ministry, himself assuming the post of premier and minister of the interior.

The new ministers, who took the oath of office tonight are as follows: Premier and minister of the interior, Moret y Prendergast; minister of foreign affairs, Perez Caballero; minister of finance, Senor Alvarado; minister of war, Lieutenant General de Luque; minister of marine, Rear Admiral Concas; minister of public works, Senor Gasset; minister of public instruction, Senor Parrozo; minister of justice, Martinez Del Campo.

It is understood that the new government's program includes the re-establishment of the constitutional guarantees in Barcelona and Cerona, the suppression of the censorship, acceleration of the campaign in the Riff region, amnesty for political offenses, the publication of the documents in the Ferrer case and the holding elections within a few months.

It is believed that one of the first acts of the government will be to replace General Marina, commander of the Spanish forces in Morroco, by General Weyler.

In an interview today Senor Prendergast explained that because of recent personal bereavements he having lost by death his wife, his son and a daughter, and the fact of his advancing years he had not wished to assume power. Nevertheless the unfortunate situation at home and the distrust of the Spanish government as manifested abroad had convinced him that it was his patriotic duty to accept the leadership. He declared that the Liberal government would exactly reverse the policy of Maura and maintain social order, but with due respect for the law.

Most of the Republican senators and deputies express themselves as satisfied with the latest turn of events, particularly as they believe it marks the end of clerical influence with the government. One of these said today: "The new cabinet contains elements openly anti-clerical, and thus it becomes possible to establish an anti-clerical policy so necessary to Spain."

However, Radical members of the Cortes, like Deputy Seriano who is also editor of Espana Nueva, announce an intention to fight the new ministry, because of its alleged monarchical tendency. They predict a series of swift changes, bringing about a situation like that which began with the insurrection in the fleet in 1868 and culminated in 1873 with the abdication of King Amadeus and the establishment of a short-lived republic.

The Liberal papers today rejoice over what they term the end of the tyrannical rule of Maura. The El Pais, a Republican organ, hopes that the war in Morocco will be brought to a prompt and honorable conclusion, "to shield the ruth of the country." It also demands the passage of anti-clerical laws similar to those of France.

FRENCH PRESS PLEASED.

Hopes Fall of Maura Cabinet Will Bring Spain Better Days.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The French press today hails with satisfaction the fall of the Maura cabinet in Spain, and expresses the hope that the change of government marks the beginning of better days for that monarchy. It is especially pleased that the possibility of Franco-Spanish complications regarding affairs in Morocco appears to have passed. The Socialist papers consider the defeat of the Conservatives was due more to indignation manifested abroad than to the domestic situation.

FORETOLD BY FRANK PERRETT.

People Greatly Alarmed by Disturbances of Etna and Vesuvius.

MESSINA, Italy, Oct. 22.—Earth shocks felt yesterday in the vicinity of Mt. Etna coincident with a renewed activity of Mt. Vesuvius have caused much alarm here and the fact that such seismic disturbances had been predicted by Frank A. Perrett, American scientist, formerly assistant director of the Royal Observatory on Mt. Vesuvius, does not lessen the uneasiness. Mr. Perrett was in this city during the last week of September, and at that time pointed out that September 29 would be a date most favorable for volcanic eruptions, for the reason that at that time the sun, earth and moon would be in line, thus constituting a combination tending to produce a gravitational distortion of the earth's form. Mr. Perrett added that if nothing out of the ordinary occurred, as proved to be the case, it would mean that the earth had resisted the unusual pressure, but that telluric convulsions would very likely be experienced in the latter half of October.

ERUPTION DECREASING.

Villages Near Mt. Vesuvius Filled with Strangers to See Activity.

NAPLES, Italy, Oct. 22.—Mt. Vesuvius became alarmingly active yesterday, but the eruption appears to be decreasing today. The villages near the volcano are filled with strangers, mostly foreigners, who had hastened there to witness the phenomenon.

NERVE CENTERS OF A GREAT CITY.

[Bennett Chapple, in the National Magazine.]

Today the rumbling coach, the galloping horse, the weary errand boy and clerk on foot, the town crier with his jangling bell are seen no more upon the streets of the city. The tiny lines of wires and the waiting, efficient telephone girl do 1,000 times the amount of work they did, and in a fraction of the time formerly consumed. Seventy-five per cent of the business transacted today is done over the telephone. Those magic wires enter every office building in every city in the land, quiet, inert apparently, but baying behind them the marvelous modern nerve centres of commerce—the telephone exchange, which supplies the energy for the transaction of all the business of the modern commercial world.

These telephone exchanges are the most interesting places in the world. In a great city like New York, the work is divided among several large exchanges, or central offices, in each one of which are 50 or 100 girls, trained to the task of answering every call in the shortest possible time. Probably the great success attained by American telephony is due, first to the inventive genius of Americans, and second to their peculiar alert, nervous temperament, which gives the highest possible rapidity in work requiring alertness and speed rather than muscular strength and endurance.

BLOCKADED.

Every Household in Newport Should Know How to Resist It.

The back aches because the kidneys are blockaded.

Help the kidneys with their work.

The back will ache no more.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Newport.

Mrs. Sarah E. Freeman, 21 Warner Street, Newport, R. I., says: "My nephew was more or less troubled by backache for some time. Often it kept him awake at night, and in the morning he arose feeling stiff and lame. In addition to backache, other difficulties existed which left no doubt that his kidneys were affected; and wholly responsible for his suffering. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, he procured a box at Wright & Hay's Drug Store and their use brought results that proved them to be a remedy of great merit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

RECEIVER'S REPORT APPROVED.

Fort Scott National Bank Depositors Paid Large Percentage.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct 22.—The final report of John Watts, receiver for the First National Bank of Fort Scott, Kan., was approved yesterday by Judge Pollock in the federal court in Kansas City, Kas. The bank failed November 20, 1909, with liabilities amounting to $600,000. The depositors have been paid 50 per cent, and the receiver has enough money to pay 20 per cent more.

The receiver brought suit against the directors charging criminal negligence, and recovered $75,000. The assets were sold to the Bankers' Trust Company of St. Louis for $49,000.

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 22.—Educators of this and two other states addressed the New Hampshire State Teachers' Association at the opening sessions of its annual convention in this city today. President John M. Thomas of Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt.; Professor George B. Chase of Harvard University and Samuel W. Cole, director of music in the schools of Brookline, Mass., were among the visiting speakers, while there were addressed by several college professors and school teachers of this state.

MIDDLETOWN.

Large Gathering at the Supper and Social Given by the Citizens' Association.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The Citizens' Association was much favored in having the rain hold off Thursday evening until the gathering had assembled, and there seemed no noticeable shortage in attendance at the supper and social on account of the threatening storm. The Newport Military band, of which Representative Frank T. Peckham is a member, assembled at the entrance of Oakland hall early in the evening and gave him and the association which he represents a serenade, playing outdoors about an hour and afterwards indoors, during the supper up stairs. The gathering numbered about 150 persons.

An elaborate supper of cold chicken and all its accompaniments, chicken salad, ice cream and cake, was served by Caterer Aronson of Newport. During the supper and at its conclusion there was dancing, which was continued until midnight, music being furnished by an orchestra from the Newport Military band.

The entertainment committee consisted of Chester B. Brown, Dennis J. Murphy and Frank T. Peckham, Mr. William Almy did the prompting for the dancing. A number of the guests who left at 11 o'clock experienced some difficulty in reaching home, for the rain was driving in sheets and it was impossible in places to see the road, it was so dark.

The Ronkonkoma Dramatic Club was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hubbell on Prospect avenue Thursday evening. The club is preparing to present the three-act comedy, "The Time of his Life," soon after Thanksgiving.

The framing is up for the new two-and-a-half-story house for Mr. Nathan Brown on Green End avenue, and a part of it has been boarded in.

The uncertain weather and other social events somewhat interfered with a large attendance at the Berkeley parish house Thursday evening, when the members of Holy Cross Guild gave a bean supper in charge of Mrs. J. Willis Peckham, Mrs. J. Overton Peckham and Mrs. Edward J. Peckham. The supper was excellent and the three long tables in the assembly hall were attractively arranged with flowers. Later in the evening there was dancing. Mrs. Beasie Melden, Miss Lizzie Peckham and Russell Anthony assisting with music.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hunter and Miss Edith Hunter will leave tomorrow for New York and expect to sail for Italy early next week.

It has earned its fame throughout the United States by fourteen years of Square Dealing and the most generous distribution of premiums in the history of man.

You should obtain at least one of these Famous Stamps with every 10c. in the amount of every purchase you make. Failure to do so is failure to get all that is due you.—Merchants—representative merchants—In every line of business give them, and are under contract to sell you the best goods for the Least Money. They can AFFORD to do it, because, by giving "S. & H." Green Trading Stamps they get spot cash with which to buy for spot cash. Thus they can buy cheaper and sell cheaper. We sell cheaper than all of them. Note our "S. and H." Stamp bargains.

CHEERED AND HANDCLAPPED.

Japanese Commissioners Given Freedom of the City in Providence.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 22.—The honorary commercial commissioners of Japan, in their tour of the United States under the auspices of the associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific coast, were given a hearty reception and an intresting entertainment when they reached this city from New Haven this afternoon. F. M. Rhodes, Henry A. Barker and Harry Cutler, all well known civic workers of the city, went to New London, Conn., this morning to meet the visitors and bid them welcome to the state in behalf of the Board of Trade.

The special train pulled into the Union statio non time, and a large and enthusiastic crowd was awaiting the visiting foreigners in the station train shed and on the walks outside. A cordon of police cleared a path as the business and professional men from Japan, with their wives, together with the visiting Pacific slope tradesmen, walked to their automobiles. They were cheered and handclapped all the way.

After the freedom of the city had been extended by Mayor Fletcher at the city hall the machines were again entered and the guests were soon motoring to the state house, where Governor Pothier bade them an official welcome to the stae. Later in the afternoon various groups were formed and went about their several investigation of the manufacturing districts of the city.

Dinner will be served at the Squantum Club this evening.

The special train will pull out about midnight for Boston, where three days will be spent. Worcester will be reached next Tuesday, and Springfield Wednesday. From there the party will go to Newark, N. J., where several of the Japanese are especially anxious to visit the silk mills. The visitors declare Rhode Island to be a beautiful state, and express pleasure for the welcome accorded them here.

PRESENTED WITH SOUVENIRS.

Japanese Chamber of Commerce Commissioners in New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 22.—The Japanese Chamber of Commerce commissioners, who are making a tour of the country to observe commercial conditions, paid a brief visit to New Haven today, and were welcomed at the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad station by representative citizens, headed by Mayor James B. Martin and President Ullman of the Chamber of Commerce. They made a tour of the city's business and industrial sections in automobiles and were received at Yale by President Hadley, who, in a brief address, presented Baron Shibusawa, head of the party, with one of the bronze medals struck off to commemorate Yale's bicentennial, several years ago. Each of the members of the party was presented with a souvenir pamphlet issued by the Chamber of Commerce, descriptive of the city's activities and bearing the colors of the United States and Japan.

ONLY LOMBARD AND CUMMING.

No Other Citizens or Officials Implicated in Framingham.

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Oct. 22.—The mystery as to the disposition of the $320,000 which former Treasurer John B. Lombard admits was raised during the past 12 or 14 months on spurious town notes was still apparently unsolved when the town officials came to their offices today prepared to receive additional evidence of the largest manipulation of town finances in Massachusetts for many years. Deposed Treasurer Lombard clings to his bed, although his physician admits that his condition is not alarming, and that with a little expenditure of energy he might be on his feet.

Lombard resolutely sticks to his first statement that the never benefited by the sale of the notes, and the money went to other parties; yet every day new notes of questionable value appear, and in nearly every instance the holders declare that they paid their money to the town or its accredited representatives. The work of examining the books of the treasurer for the past 20 years is still in progress, and may consume a week or more. Even then it is not expected the result will assist materially in clearing up the situation regarding the outstanding indebtedness, except those stocks whose value has not been questioned, like the bonds and notes held by the state.

The town officials up to 10 o'clock this morning had inspected and declared of questionable value notes amounting to $200,000, and more paper of like character was expected during the day.

The selectmen today pronounced as baseless the report that several prominent citizens and town officials are implicated in the irregularites. They said that so far as is known up to the present time, no one is involved in the matter except Town Treasurer Lombard and Charles S. Cummings, the Boston note broker. The selectmen stated, in addition, that up to this afternoon they had been unable to learn what disposition had been made of the money obtained by the sale of the alleged fraudulent notes.

MOHONK INDIAN PLATFORM ADOPTED.

sion, who discussed the present and ence. The speakers at the morning sessuture of Porto Rico, were Major General George W. Davis, U. S. A., formerly governor of Porto Rico and later governor of the Panama Canal Zone; Regis H. Post, who has just resigned the governorship of Porto Rico; William F. Willoughby, formerly president of the executive council; Charles Hartsell, formerly secretary of state; and Cayatono Colley Ouchi, of San Juan, member of the Porto Rican house of delegates.

Mr. Willoughby urged the gradual rather than the immediate granting of political power to the Porto Ricans.

Mr. Hartsell, who lives in San Juan, deplored the fact that the Porto Ricans had no political standing; that they could not become citizens of the United States, but are simply "citizens of Porto Rico." He expressed the desire that they should have statehood as a final goal placed before them.

Mr. Ouchi made a plea for a recognition of the Porto Ricans' demand for the rights of citizenship, living under the American flag.

Dr. Lyman Abbott presented the following platform, which was adopted, on the motion of Vice President Sherman:

"Twenty-seven years have passed since the first Lake Mohonk Indian conference was assembled. Then it was the policy of the nation to push the Indians aside when they were an impediment to national progress; now it is the national policy to incorporate the Indians in the nation and enable them to contribute to the national progress. The most important of the reforms advocated by the conference have been accepted by the nation—specifically, the abolition of the reservation system, the establishment of a federal public school system for the education of the Indians, and the application to the Indian service of the civil service rules.

"This change in the nation's conception of the Indian problem and its true solution has been accompanied by a great improvement in the personnel of the Indian service, and in public sentiment on the Indian question. Meanwhile new obligations have been laid on the nation toward other people who are not citizens of the United States, but are subject to its jurisdictio nand authority.

"We take this occasion to re-affirm certain fundamental principles which the nation's failures and successes in the Indian service have illustrated and enforced, and which are equally applicable to these new wards of the nation—for the duty of the American people to establish by the force of its laws and the influence of its examples liberty and justice is the same toward all its non-citizen subjects, whether these subjects be the young men not yet grown to full citizenship, or the aborigines under our sovereignty, or the newly landed immigrants unfamiliar with the nature and operation of free institutions, or the negroes recently freed from slavery, or the inhabitants of our insular possessions with no historic preparation for democracy—that is, the reign of the people. The ultimate end of all just government is self-government.

"Keeping this end ever in mind, it is the duty of the nation to give to all under its authority adequate protection of person and property, whether personal or communal; government by law, not by the will of a personal ruler military or civil; courts of law accessible to the poorest and humblest; processes of law prompt, economical and equal in their operation; taxes no heavier than the expenses of their government, economically administered, require; sanitary provisions for the prevention of preventible disease and the establishment of hygienic conditions; schools which shall furnish industrial and moral as well as academic instruction; and, through the voluntary efforts of the churches, the inspiration of a religion founded, not on the fear, but on the love of God.

"This means for the North American Indian the abolition of the tribal relation, in which the fundamental rights of the individual are denied; the substitution of personal for tribal property; the recognition of the Indians' right to ravel freely and peaceably, and to buy and sell in the open market, and his ultimate admission to American citizenship. It means for the Filipino opening to him the American market, as it has been opened to the Hawaiian and the Porto Rican. It means that the relationship between the United States and her insular possessions should be clearly defined at the earliest practicable date.

"It means for the inhabitants of the insular possessions the maintenance of local self-government as a preparation for further insular self-government and the complete development of an Anglo-Saxon system of courts and procedure; and it means for all—North American Indians, natives races of Alaska, Porto Ricans, Hawaiians and Filipinos—the vigorous prosecution and condign punishment of all men engaged in lawless endeavors to deprive the people of their public or private property, the establishment by law of efficient police regulations to safeguard the people against the vices of civilization, adequate sanitary measures for the protection of the people's health, an adequate system of education for their mental and moral development, and the improvement of their industries by providing industrial training, developing their resources and promoting easy access to profitable markets.

"Finally, it means securing well-paid agents of unquestionable integrity and proved capacity to represent the nation in its work for the betterment of these peoples. It does not necessarily mean either eventual statehood or eventual independence for our island possessions. It may mean self-government under American protection and subject to American sovereignty; but whatever relationship may be established between America and her insular possessions in the future, just government must mean for all peoples under her protection and subject to her sovereignty government for the benefit of the governed now—that is justice, and eventual self-government, which is the consumation of liberty."

A committee was appointed to report next year on the condition of the Indians in New York state.

EFFORTS TO IDENTIFY BODY.

Men Who Died in Hastings, Neb., Supposed to be Francis Schlatter.

HASTINGS, Neb., Oct. 22.—Efforts were continued today to make positive the identification of the body supposed to be that of Francis Schlatter, who is alleged to have died here Thursday. Photographs of the body were sent to Denver, where 15 years ago the Divine healer made his headquarters. A woman's handkerchief was found in the man's grip, bearing the name of Emma Snodgrass, Portsmouth, Ohio. On the handkerchief is the inscription "Blessed Oct. 9, 1898."

NOW AT THE SMITHSONIAN.

Pickled Skins of Large Variety of Animals Sent by Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The entire consignment of pickled skins of animals killed in Africa by former President Roosevelt and his son Kermit, which was recently landed in New York city, has been received by the Smithsonian Institution. Among the animals represented in this collection were rhinoceros, hippopotamus, tapi, wildebeest, bush buck, eland, wart hog, water buck, impala, zebra, giraffe, hyena, lion, Grant's gazelle, leopard, cheetah, reed buck, Thompson's gazelle, Steinbuck, dik-dik, baboon, klipperspringer and jackal.

ARMY EXCEEDINGLY STRONG.

Nicaraguan Revolutionists Ready to Meet Government Troops.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 22.—Private advices received here under date of October 16 from Bluefields, Nicaragua, state that the entire army of the revolution numbers 2,500 men. It is declared that the position of General Chamorro between El Castillo and Greytown is exceedingly strong, and that he is in command of 800 men and several pieces of artillery. With the reinforcement of 600 men which have been started from Bluefields he will begin his attack on the fortress of El Castillo, the advices say. The army under General Estrada, 30 miles north of Rama City, is said to number 1,500 men, and it is asserted they are ready to meet the government troops.

NEW GARDEN OF EDEN.

(Technical World Magazine.)

Five billion dollars to make the United States a mammoth Garden of Eden, every acre of which shall yield abundantly, every road of which shall be as smooth and level as a turnpike, every river of which shall bear on its broad bosom the commerce of a prosperous section—a Garden which shall literally flow with the milk and honey of contentment and prosperity! Such is the gigantic plan fathered by Arthur Hooker, secretary of the board of control of the National Irrigation Congress which held its seventeenth session in Spokane, Washington, in August last.

Mr. Hooker proposes to memorialize Congress to issue three per cent gold bonds, running 100 years, to the amount of $5,000,000,000, or as much thereof as may be necessary, for the following specific purposes: $1,000,000,000 for drainage of overflowed and swamp lands, thus reclaiming an area equal to 100,000 square miles; $1,000,000,000 for the reclamation by irrigation of 40,000,000 acres of arid and semi-arid lands, now partly or wholly waste; $1,000,000,000 to construct and improve deep waterways, to develop thousands of miles of territory now without adequate transportation facilities; $1,000,000,000 for good roads and national highways, for the lack of which the loss to the farm area of the United States is approximately $500,000,000 annually; $1,000,000,000 for forest protection, reforestation and conservation of forest resources, thus assuring timber and lumber supplies for centuries to come.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22, Wall Street—The stock market opened irregular, with Amalgamated Copper at 82⅝, American Car & Foundry 69⅝, American Smelting 97, American Locomotive 69, Anaconda 47, Atchison 121, Baltimore & Ohio 116⅛, Canadian Pacific 184¼, Erie 33½, Great Northern preferred 148¾, Missouri, Kansas & Texas 48, Missouri Pacific 70⅝, New York Central, 135½, Northern Pacific 150, Pennsylvania 148, Reading 163, Rock Island 30½, St. Paul 159½, Southern Pacific 129¾, Southern Railway 31⅛, Union Pacific 203¾, United States Steel 90⅜, United States Steel preferred 127⅝ and Wabash preferred 54½ to 54¾.

10—The opening trading in the stock market was rather quiet, and the small changes were irregular. There were 1,800 shares of Wabash preferred dealt in at 54 and 54¾, compared with 53¾ last night. St. Louis Southwestern and Interboro Metropolitan rose ⅝.

11—Selling orders increased in volume and prices declined sharply. Fear of tight money and bear pressure were responsible for the fall. United States Steel broke 2⅛, Reading 1⅝, Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper 1½ and a dozen more leading stocks a point. A good fractional rally occurred when the shorts covered.

Noon—Money on call, firm, at 4½ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 5 to 6½ per cent. Rallies proved fatal, and new low levels for prices were reached before noon. Most of the prominent active stocks sold lower than before yesterday's late rally. Reading declined 2¾, United States Steel 2⅜, and Union Pacific 2½. Bonds were irregular.

Old Company's Wilkesbarre Coal.

There is a good deal of coal sold for Wilkesbarre and under the name of Wilkesbarre, that is not the genuine Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Co's coal; these coals are much inferior to the Old Company's Wilkesbarre and can be bought for less money.

We have handled the Old Company's coal for a number of years, and know that it is always good.

When buying Wilkesbarre coal, see that you get the OLD COMPANY'S COAL, and to be sure of the fact send your order to

A LIGHT MEETING.

Some Ordered for the Streets and Some Cast on City Affairs.

Compromise Settlement of the Carter Claim for Damages Approved.

It was a time for citing light—some in the form of new or better street lights, some as to conditions of city affairs—at the Thursday evening meeting of the Board of Aldermen. All the members were present.

The regular pay rolls were approved, as follows: Streets and highways, $1,518.47; police, $797.67; fire department, $168.98; city officers, $179.25; public buildings, $11.54; firemen in theatres, $34.

A petition was received from the Newport & Fall River Street Railway Company for permission to erect poles and string wires on Newport avenue. City Clerk Fullerton said these poles and wires had been in position some months, being necessary for the arc light on Newport avenue. The company, however, had not received permission to erect the poles and run the wires, though directed to place the light, and to make the record clear this permission was asked. It was granted.

Petitions from Catherine Sullivan and John B. Rhodes, for remission of taxes under the veterans' exemption clause, were referred to the tax assessors.

The street commissioner reported on the petition of W. H. Tibbetts and others, for improvement to Hoffman place, that the street is not a public highway and therefore he could do nothing; in addition, there is no money available for the work. The city clerk said he understood that a deed of the street is being prepared.

A communication was received from the Board of Health in regard to a complaint made to the Board of Aldermen August 19 by S. W. M. Battene in regard to swill. The Board of Health reported that the depositing of swill near Old Fort road, complained of, had been stopped and the non-compliance with the terms of the contract in collecting swill in the First ward had been remedied. The report did not state it, but the elapsed time between Councilman Battene's complaint and the arrival of the reply at the Board of Aldermen meeting was two months and one day, and between Councilman Battene's complaint to the Board of Health and its announcement that things were right was something like four months, days not counted.

Licenses (renewals) were granted as follows: Clarence Ford, Elias Nassar, peddling; Burke & Kirby, three pool tables and four bowling alleys, Charles Hitt, one pool table. The application of Joseph Nashin for a peddler's license was laid on the table.

There was an appraisal of damages by dogs to Bens of Edward Wyatt, involving a total cost of $34.30. In view of the fact that certain dogs did the damage, the matter of ordering the award paid was laid on the table, pending investigation as to the ownership of the dogs.

Mr. Mahoney, from the committee on the Carter claim, reported that the committee had consulted with Mr. Burdick, attorney for petitioner, and learned of several citizens who could testify to the presence of stones on the street at the place and time specified. As the city's evidence is of a negative character, and as the city is compelled to see that any such obstruction has a light on it, and this was not done, the committee was of the opinion that the best thing to do was to settle the claim for $350, obtaining a full release from the father and son. A resolution providing for such settlement was adopted.

The committee on water filters reported that it had done nothing but would have a report ready for the next meeting, as it would go down and look at the filter.

Mr. Mahoney reported that the lights had been established about Corne street as ordered, but till things were dark, owing to the fact that a light from Pelham street does not shine through. He moved that a new light be placed on Corne street, opposite the Swedish Lutheran Church, and the board so voted.

Mr. Shepley thought Lincoln street is in bad condition, referring of course to the roadway, but nothing was done about it.

Mayor Boyle asked what had become of the suit against the Water Works to test the $300 a year payment for fountains, but no one was wise enough to tell him. The best recollection was that it was to have been tried last March.

Mr. Kelly moved to change three street lights on Coggeshall avenue, at Casey's court, Wheatland and Lakeview avenues, from plain to incandescent and the board so ordered.

Mr. Shepley moved that two lights on Broadway, at Park street and Bay View avenue, be changed, and it was so voted.

The mayor reported that the street commissioner had reported the pier at the end of Van Zandt avenue in such condition that he had closed it and repairs would be made at once.

Mr. Shepley reported that the street commissioner was pointing the wall at Battery Park, for the Park Commission.

The engrossed copy of the resolutions on the death of Alderman Cottrell, prepared by Mr. F. H. Sisson, was shown to the board before its formal presentation. Mr. Sisson had photographic copies, which he presented to the members of the board.

IF HE CAN GIVE $3,000 BOND.

Washington Gives Los Angeles Authority to Release de Lara.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Department of Commerce and Labor today telegraphed to Los Angeles, Cal., authority for the release of Guitverez de Lara, who was arrested as an anarchist and an alien who entered this country without inspection. The departmental authority for release is on condition of de Lara furnishing $3,000 bond.

THE JOHNSTON—GRAHAM MINE.

Property Not Sold, But Capitalists Negotiating for Its Development and Further Working.

For some time there has been a report current, particularly in Western mining papers, that the Johnston-Graham mine in California, in which a large number of Newporters are deeply interested, has been sold. Mr. J. D. Johnston, one of the principals in this investment, was seen today by a News representative in regard to the report and said it was untrue, but stated that there is something on foot which promises to give the mine another lease of life.

He said the stockholders had gone their limit in their effort to work the mine and had spent all their money in development, so that of necessity it has been lying idle. For some months capitalists have been negotiating for the working of the mine and a plan was devised some time ago and accepted, whereby these capitalists are to take over a certain amount of stock January 1, and will then care for the development and working of the property. They are understood to have the refusal on something like $225,000 worth of stock and have already put up a forfeit which reverts to the company if they do not complete the deal by the end of the year.

It is particularly pointed out that the local holders will still retain their stock and stand in a position to receive dividends on it if the capitalists succeed in making the place pay. Experts declare that there is no question about the mine paying if money enough can be applied to work it right, and in fact there has been a recent working under contract which proved these claims to be well founded. Dividends on the money already put into the mine by the local investors will be gratefully received when the new operators are ready.

O'NEILL CHOSEN MANAGER.

Reserves' Basket Ball Team Likely to Play This Year Under the Reach Rules.

At the meeting of the Naval Reserves Thursday evening the veteran John O'Neill was elected manager of the basket ball team. Every one interested knows what Jack O'Neill has done for basket ball in Newport, and that a more energetic manager could not well be found. They will be glad to see him once again in the game. He has been absent from the city for some time past, but has always retained his interest in the game and has often come here to see the Ree serves play.

It seems likely that this year the team will play under the Reach rules, like all the fast professional teams. This means that the ball is in play all the time and baskets can be scored from a dribble, making a faster game. The Reserves have played under these rules and find them satisfactory. As most if not all the fast teams which come here prefer thes rules, there should be no trouble about their proving acceptable. The game seems much faster because there is no time out for ball out of bounds.

WILLIAM A. OGILVIE.

Mr. William A. Ogilvie died Thursday evening at the Newport Hospital, where about ten days ago an operation for appendicitis was performed. Peritonitis had previously developed and the patient had been in a critical condition since that time. Within the past few days there had been an apparent improvement and death came when his friends had begun to hope for recovery.

Mr. Ogilvie was a native of Nova Scotia and 28 years old. He had been in Newport about ten years, and made many friends. An active member of the First Presbyterian Church, he held several official positions, among them those of deacon and secretary of the Sunday School. He was also a member of the Walter Lowrie Club and of the Newport Artillery. Upon coming to Newport he was first employed in the Boston Store, was later agent of the Equitable and Prudential life insurance companies and for a number of years was a salesman for Mr. James P. Taylor. He had recently been in charge of the men's furnishing goods department of the Boston Store, and was about to re-engage in the employ of Mr. Taylor. He had expected to be married in a few weeks.

The funeral, in accordance with Mr. Ogilvie's wishes, will take place from the First Presbyterian Church, and the body will be taken to his former home in Nova Scotia.

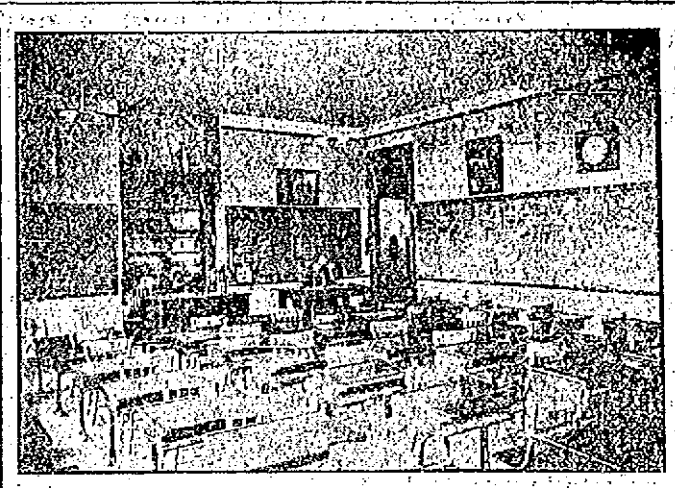

ELECTION DRAWING NEAR.

Sample Ballots Received, and Contain a Typographical Error on the Assembly Ticket.

The sample ballots for the state election have reached the city clerk's office and will be posted October 30th. The Board of Aldermen will meet this evening for the second last canvass of the ward lists for this election. Tax Collector Higbee is at his office in the City Hall evenings now, to enable personal property taxpayers to pay. According to the decision of the supreme court a tax paid by a political party does not qualify a personal property voter to vote, and for that reason it seems to be up to all such who desire to vote to pay their own taxes. There are of course many of these and a considerable number have been paid, but there is still a greater number not paid. All such taxes remaining unpaid when the midnight hour strikes next Tuesday will be thrown off the ward lists by the Board of Aldermen at its final canvass.

Things are so quiet politically that it seems that election cannot be so near, but it is coming fast.

Newport seems to have encountered some of those "typographical" errors which the state printer sometimes springs on candidates. The name of Henry T. Harvey, Jr., a candidate for the Assembly, appears on the sample ballot as Henry F. Harvey, Jr., and there is no such person as Henry F. Harvey, Jr.

CHURCH ENTERTAINMENTS.

Thames Street Epworth League Celebrates Anniversary.

First Church League Social and Roll Call and First Baptist "Playlet."

The twentieth anniversary of the Epworth League of the Thames Street Methodist Episcopal Church was fittingly observed in the Sunday School rooms Thursday evening, the celebration taking the form of a bazaar and entertainment. The four departments—Spiritual, World Evangelism, Mercy and Help and Social—and the Junior League were represented.

The World Evangelism booth in charge of Mrs. W. F. Geisler, assisted by Mrs. George Bailey, Miss Mabel Crandall, Miss Annie Northup and Miss Charlotte Downs was made by Mr. George Wilson and decorated by those in charge, assisted by Mr. Charles F. Biesel. The color scheme of the decorations of crepe paper was pink and white and around the top of the booth were placed cleverly painted pastel sketches, the work of Mr. Biesel, illustrating the familiar hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains." At the booth were sold ice cream, Russian tea, bananas, rice with fruit sauce, sandwiches and fancy articles.

The Mercy and Help booth, also made by Mr. Wilson, was in charge of Mrs. Harry Kault, assisted by Mrs. Charity Peckham and Miss Edgar. This was attractive in red and white, the lettering "Mercy and Help," being done by Master William Downs. Jellies, flowers and fruit; such as are distributed by this department, were sold, as were also dainty hand painted memorandum pads.

The Spiritual Department booth, in charge of Mrs. James G. Albro, assisted by Mrs. Isaac J. Barker and Mrs. Fred Clarke was decorated with white crepe paper and texts from the Bible on the subject of food and eating. At this booth angel and other kinds of cake wer sold and a recipe for Scripture cake was also on sale. The Maltese cross with the League motto, "Look up, lift up," was used at this booth with good effct.

Under the direction of the Social Department an entertainment, "The Old Maids' Association," was given during the evening by the following cast: Jerusha Eliza Dangs, president; Miss Ethel Potter; Rebecca Retrace, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. H. K. Rose; Minty Clovertop, Mrs. Gardner Ferrent; Mariana Melissa Pluck, Miss Mary Stanhope; Desire A. Mann, Mrs. George Wilson; Hepsibah Odelia Olds, Mrs. Charles Biesel; Ann Ellen Patterby, Mrs. H. C. Kault; May Haverman, Mrs. John Buckley; Petunia Pickles, Mrs. Peter Meire; Serena Hasben, Mrs. Chester Tallman; Charity Hopegood, Mrs. Robert Oman; Rachel Ketcham, Mrs. Edward Stokes; Holinda Bliss, Mrs. Louler Downs; Professor Makerneaux, Mr. Clifton Tallman; his assistants, Masters Fred Biesel and Edwin Barker; Made-over Old Maids, Misses Hazel Dadley, Maud Sisson, Esther Barker, Florence Barker, Gladys Sisson, Annie Northup, Bessie Stanhope, Rosamond McLellan, Edith Barry, Emily Johnson, Florence Jackman, Zellie Sisson and Ida Anderson.

The sketch is amusing, detailing a business meeting of the association, at which the president resigns because of her inability to find husbands for the members, and later reconsiders her resignation. At the close of the business meeting, which included quotations in response to the roll-call the Association hymn and clever reports of committees containing several hits on members of the League, Professor Makerneaux appears on the scene and offers by means of his machine to make the old maids over into such young girls as they choose to be. The sketch concludes with the ghosts of their former selves appearing before the young girls. The costumes were capital and all performed their roles creditably.

In the primary room Miss Hazel Bailey as Red Riding Hood, assisted by Miss Marjorie Knull, sold grabs, and paper flower grabs were sold by Miss Gladys Sisson. Fancy articles were sold by Misses Maud Sisson and Louise Lulli and candy and popcorn balls by Miss May Kelly.

Credit for the success of the bazaar is due Miss Ethel Potter, president of the League, and the heads of the Departments, with their assistants.

The roll-call and social of the Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ira W. Wilbur on Broadway, was a jolly occasion and a large number were present to enjoy the program. After the roll-call the social committee, in charge of the chairman, Mrs. George G. Popple, presented an entertainment consisting of amusing and instructive games, with an illustrated "lecture." This was really an exhibit of a miscellaneous character, the various articles being displayed in a frame hung in a doorway. In connection with the running thread of explanation by the "lecturer" many surprises were developed. It began with "A View of the Week" (a dismantled umbrella), and ended with "Some Things to Adore" (a collection of hinges, locks and knobs) and the other 12 numbers were of similar character. Light refreshments were served in the dining room, from a table decorated with five large and grinning pumpkin jack o' lanterns. As usual with recent entertainments of the league the social broke up just in time for the guests to catch the heaviest of the rain between 10 and 10:30 on their way home.

An interesting entertainment was given at the First Baptist Church Thursday evening for the benefit of the Church Improvement Society. It took the form of a playlet, "The Family Album" by Kate F. Ellis. The characters were taken by Mrs. W. F. Williamson, Miss Henrietta Nason, Benjamin Nichols, Miss Dorothy Lawton, Mr. Sarrell, Miss Elsie Wood, David A. Lawton, Mrs. John R. Austin, Harold Wood, Mrs. Louis Barlow, Albert C. Young, Miss Cora Hathaway, Miss Elsie Petzka, Miss Reba Anthony and John R. Austin.

After the performance there was a sale of cakes and candies under the direction of Miss Ruth Hassard and Miss Glazier, and of aprons under the direction of Mrs. George Hall, and a "walking Mystery" with Miss Grace Wood in charge. A good sum was realized.

SEVERAL "ST. ELMO" COMPANIES.

"St. Elmo" was first produced under the personal direction of Willard Holcomb at the Academy of Music, Richmond, Va., the former home of Mrs. Wilson, the author of the story. It was so successful that the producing rights were secured by Mr. Vaughan Glaser, who will not only make it the feature of his repertory in the cities where he is personally popular as a stock star, but has organized several duplicate productions to play all the big circuits which he cannot cover. The first of these was launched at the Olentangy Theatre, Columbus, Ohio, where it played to capacity for two weeks. Mr. Glaser himself opened the New Lyceum Theatre in Detroit before putting "St. Elmo" on for a run at Keith's Prospect Theatre, Cleveland, and on the same date the Western "St. Elmo" company opened the New Crown Theatre in Chicago.

ORGANIZATION EFFECTED.

Incorporators of the New St. Clare Home Elect Officers and New Members.

The incorporators of the St. Clare Home of Newport met at St. Mary's rectory Thursday afternoon, with Rt. Rev. Mathew Harkins, bishop of the Providence diocese, for organization. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and the following officers were elected:

President—Bishop Harkins.
Vice President—Frederick P. Garrettson.
Secretary—John C. Burke.
Treasurer—Rev. William B. Meenan.
Consultors—Andrew K. Quinn, Philip E. Clark.

The corporators are Rev. William B. Meenan, Colonel Delancey A. Kane, Andrew K. Quinn, Philip E. Clark, Frederick P. Garrettson, John C. Burke and Nicholas E. Dwyer.

The following additional members of the corporation were elected: Rev. James Mahan, George Peabody Wetmore, Darius Baker, Sister Mary and Sister Louise of the White Sisters, Rev. M. F. Reddy, Jeremiah K. Sullivan, William H. Schmidt, Philip F. Conroy, P. J. O'Sullivan, Harry O. Havemeyer, Jr., Frank M. Wheeler.

A committee, consisting of the incorporators present, with Rev. James Mahan and Messrs. J. K. Sullivan and Frank M. Wheeler, was appointed to devise means for the immediate support of the White Sisters of this city. Sister Mary of the White Sisters was elected assistant treasurer.

DANIEL SULLY'S NEW PLAY.

Daniel Sully, the well known actor, is this season presenting a new play, "The Game," by Jerrold Shepard. It was given its first public presentation at Glen's Falls, N. Y., last Friday evening, and the Post Star of that place spoke as follows of the production:

"It is one of the most interesting of present-day dramatic works. The story is entirely original, cleverly constructed and so arranged that the interest of the spectator is kept at a high pitch from start to finish. 'The Game' is destined to become an unqualified success."

The Fall and Winter Openings in Full Sway Here.

Our first day a great success, particularly in the SUIT, WAIST and INFANTS' and CHILDREN'S WEAR DEPARTMENTS.

Never was this store's stocks more complete and beautiful than at this opening. We wish here to extend thanks for the many compliments. Lots of nice things were said about many departments particularly THE TAILORED SUITS where were shown Garments with a difference.

This season finds this store better fitted to meet the demands than ever before.

For this reason we are showing four distinct Suit Lines.

FIRST—The Jr. Miss in sizes 13 to 15.

THEN—Misses' sizes, 14, 16, 18 and 20.

THEN—Women's sizes 32 to 44 Bust measurement.

LAST—Stout Women's, sizes 35 to 49 in. Bust measure.

Consequently there is no figure that can say she cannot be fitted.

Of the Boys' and Girls' OVERCOATS we are doubly proud of the many compliments passed; as also the Girls' Wool Dresses in sizes 8 to 14 years. Not forgetting the Women's Waist Department.

The New Goods have not ceased coming, there will be new things each day. Now is the season for good shoppers to visit the store each day to see new things as they arrive.
